Life Reflections

CHARLES EAVES JR. was born March 4, 1971, in Rochester, New York. He was the son of wonderful parents, Charles and Edna Eaves.

He was a student in the Rochester City School District. Charles attended John Marshall High School, and later went on to receive his G.E.D.

Charles was a talented chef, and cooking was indeed his passion. He was known for his ability to prepare mouth-watering dishes that you simply could not refuse. In addition to his talent in the kitchen, Charles will be remembered for his vibrant personality and his genuine love for others. He had a special love for children and a desire to see them achieve. He was the BEST son and brother, and a WONDERFUL uncle and dad.

An avid sports fan, football was Charles' sport. He loved and cheered on his team, The Philadelphia Eagles. He didn't mind letting you know his team was the best team in the league.

Charles transitioned his earthly life August 1, 2021, predeceased by his father, Charles Eaves Sr. and a niece, Natasha Douglas. He leaves to cherish his memory: one son, Tahsean Eaves; his mother, Edna Eaves; two sisters, Alfreda Young and Annie (Anthony) Walters, all of Rochester, New York; one uncle, Willie (Doris) Gibson; one aunt, Doretha Gibson; seven nephews and nieces: Katrina (Nabee) Muhamad, Rachel Douglas, Nikya Young, Tametria Young, Shawntanette (Anthony) Dunwoody, Donnell (Junotia) Douglas, and Anthony Walters; and a host of great-nephews, great-nieces, other relatives, and friends.

“Miss Me-but Let Me Go”

By: Christina Rossetti

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little – but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me-but let me go.

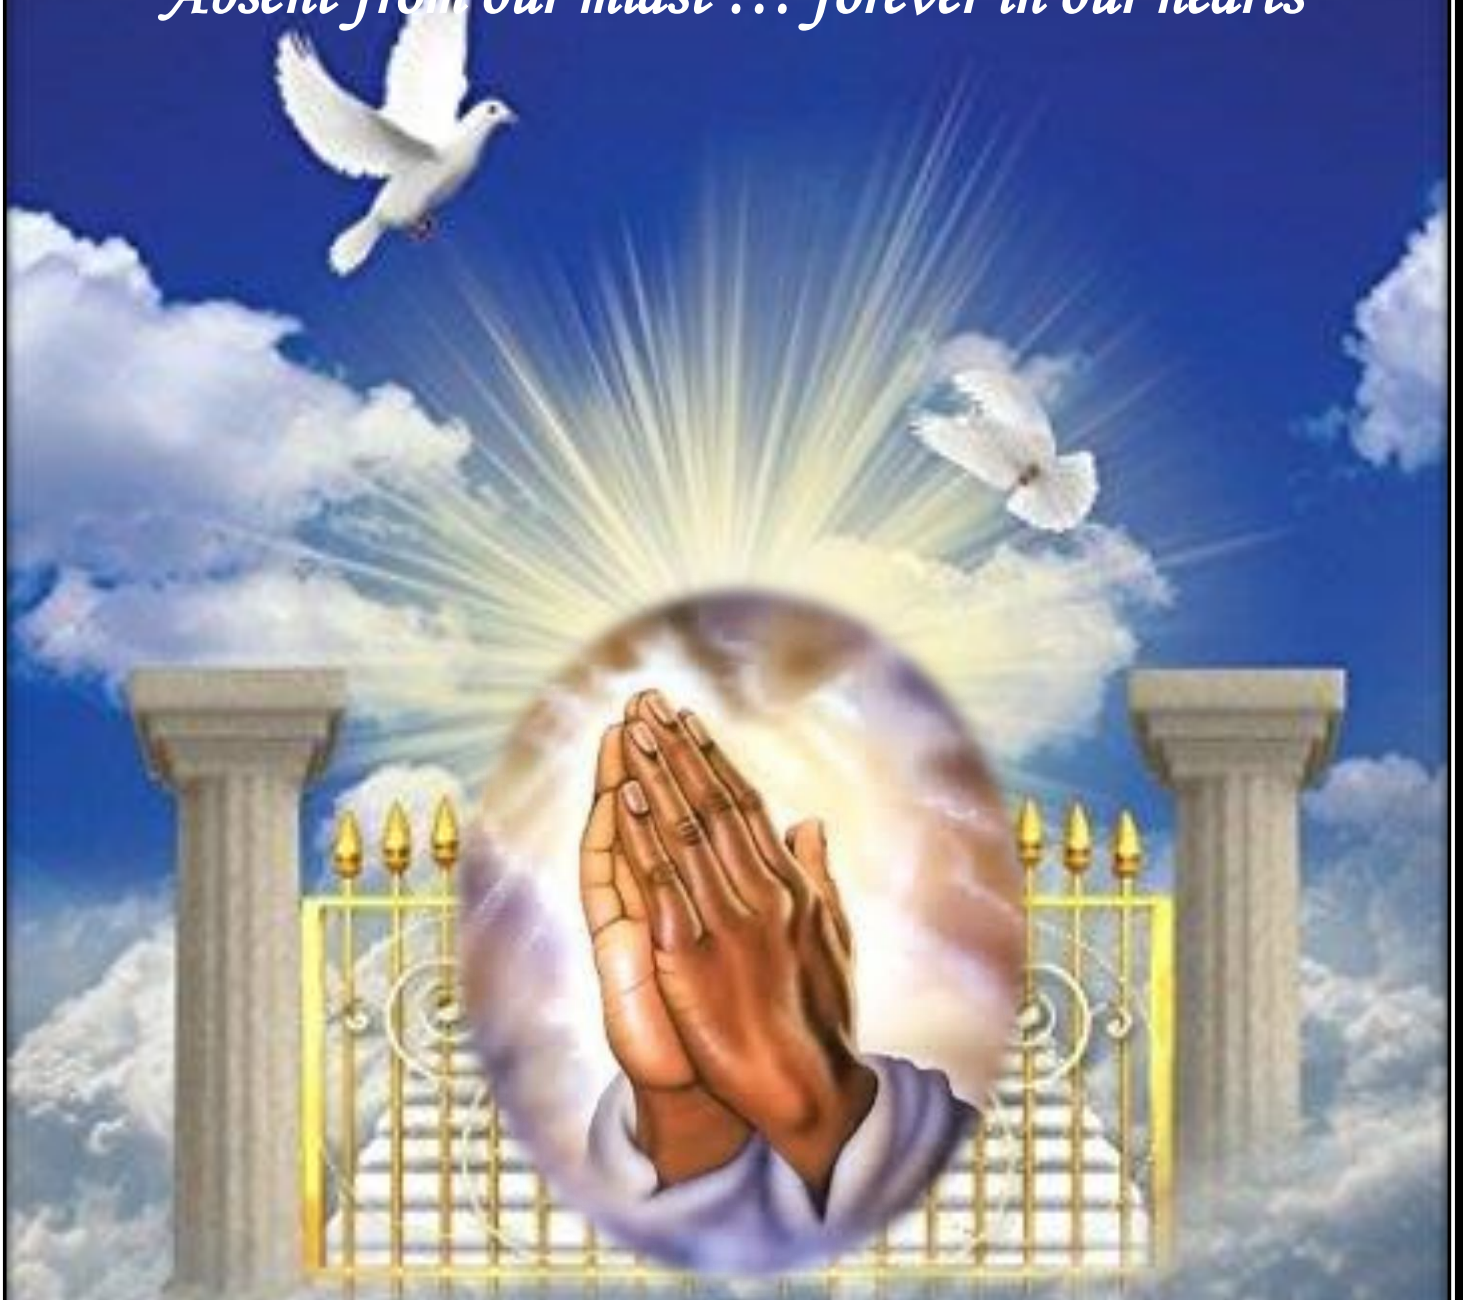

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick of heart
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me-but let me go!
